

SPECIAL FORCES

US Special Forces usually are employed under the direction of the unified command but may be assigned to or function under the operational control of the Army element employed in IDAD operations.

SECTION VI CONDUCT OF OPERATIONS

General
Mission
Concept
Operational Considerations
Offensive Attitude
Countering Small Units of Guerrillas
Countering Large Guerrilla Forces
Countering Strong Guerrilla Defense

GENERAL

This section provides guidance on the missions, concepts, and organization of the brigade in conducting counterguerrilla tactical operations. Its scope includes the operational environment, the forces required, and two types of campaigns: strike and consolidation.

MISSION

The brigade will conduct tactical operations, in coordination with host country, allied, and other US military and civilian agencies, to - -

Destroy guerrilla forces and bases by strike campaigns.

Secure areas in support of consolidation campaigns.